MARIE McDONALD FOUND ON DESERT

Ike Delivers Historic 'Doctrine' Talk

Dazed Beauty Loses Two Front Teeth

INDIO, Calif. UP—Blonde actress Marie McDonald, minus two front teeth and suffering a black eye and other bruises, was found wandering and incoherent on a desert road here Friday night nearly 24 hours after she disappeared from her San Fernando Valley home.

She hysterically claimed she was awakened and robbed of a 22-carat diamond ring by a Mexican and a Negro who held her blindfolded in a Los Angeles house.

Clad only in a housedress over a night dress against the chill of the winter desert night, she was taken to Coachella Valley Hospital here.

Attendants put her under sedation and said she was in no condition to answer until at least dawn the prize dilemma of the decade for Hollywood police:

Was she kidnaped or involved in an elaborate hoax that backfired?

Shoved From Car

The beatific movie queen and former chorine of George White's "Scandals" bore lacerations in addition to the bruises and told Imperial County sheriffs deputies she was shoved out of an "old model, light-colored sedan with green upholstery."

She told officers she was driven from a house in Los Angeles to a point near Cactus City, about five miles east of Indio, where one of the men said: "We have to get rid of her here because we are getting close to the border."

Then, she said, they knocked her out of the car and down a 25-foot embankment.

Her fingernails were broken. "The men should have scratches on them," she told investigators.

She said she was forced to leave her home with them "because they threatened my babies." She is the mother of three, two of them adopted and the last her own child, now four months old.

Took Diamond Ring

Miss McDonald claimed they took the diamond ring given to her by Murray Rosenberg, a wealthy admirer and New York City merchant. However, several days ago she told a Los Angeles

School Bus Rams Auto

A Bristol township policeman had a good excuse for being late for work yesterday afternoon.

He was investigating an accident in which he was involved. Shortly before 4 p.m. as he was going to work, Sgt. George Bentley Chapin's car was struck in the rear by a Bristol township school bus.

Couldn't Stop

Herbert Present, 33, of 6 Misty Pine road, driving the bus, told police that Sgt. Chapin stopped as the light changed from green

Civil Rights Advocates Still Hopeful

Senate Defeats Move To Change Filibuster Rule

WASHINGTON — UP — Senate civil rights advocates predicted today the new Congress will approve civil rights legislation despite the Senate's refusal to change its filibuster rule.

The Senate last night defeated 55-38 a bipartisan drive by northern senators to make it easier to limit Senate debate.

The defeat left a major roadblock in the path of President Eisenhower's civil rights program. Southern senators have repeatedly used unlimited debate to kill civil rights bills.

Predicts Speedy Approval But despite the defeat, Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland, who voted against the rules change drive, was in the van of

Police Check Hit-Run In Injury Case

Victim Is Found Bleeding On Street In Trevoise Heights

A Trevoise Heights man was found bloody and groggy last night in Lower Southampton township, apparently the victim of a hit-and-run accident.

Lower Southampton police were scheduled today to question James C. Whartenly, 68, at Nazareth hospital, where he was taken by the Trevoise Heights Rescue squad.

Whartenly, who lives on West Brook avenue, was found lying in front of a private home at 24 Bristol road by Mrs. John Halper of that address.

Mrs. Halper saw Whartenly in the street shortly after 6 o'clock last night.

Personal Plea Is Made For Mideast Plan

Use Of Military And Economic Aid Sought If Needed

WASHINGTON — UP — President Eisenhower goes before an unusual joint session of Congress today with an historic personal plea for standby authority to use military and economic aid to bolster free Middle East nations against any Soviet advance.

While the President put finishing touches on his speech, the administration drafted the final form of a resolution that would put the Eisenhower Doctrine into effect.

The President's speech attracted international attention.

All three major U.S. TV-radio networks planned to carry the speech. The Voice of America planned to carry it throughout the world.

Crowded Galleries

Official Washington, including members of the Supreme Court, were expected to crowd the galleries of the House chamber to watch the historic joint session. Exact wording of the resolution had been changed several times following closed door conferences earlier this week by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles with House and Senate leaders.

Although approval is expected, the Eisenhower Doctrine is in for a hard look from both the House and Senate. Chances for speedy action are much less in the more deliberative Senate. Several key Democrats have said they have many critical questions to raise before giving their final approval.

Calm Congressional Fears There was no firm indication in advance that Mr. Eisenhower would name a specific dollar figure for economic aid to back up the authority to use U.S. military aid—and possibly U.S. troops—in

A young brown pup with white feet swam to safety from the middle of the Delaware River yesterday. Cold and shivering, the dog, still wearing Bucks County license No. 17162, came out of the water near the Bristol Water Works. Comforting the canine swimmer are Edwin Harker (left) and Frank Sagolla.

Greyhound Bus Rams Stalled Truck; Six Dead, 32 Injured

LEXINGTON, Va. — UP — A Greyhound bus carrying 39 passengers smashed into a disabled trailer-truck near here Friday night killing six persons and injuring 32 others.

Rescuers using acetylene torches and wrecker hoists worked for nearly two hours to free the passengers—some of them seriously injured — and remove the dead from the twisted wreckage of the glass-domed "Scenicrusher."

Police said the bus, en route from Memphis, Tenn., to New York, crashed into the rear of the parked cross-country truck shortly after 7 p.m. (EST) on the rise of a small hill. The truck had pulled to the side of the busy, divided highway because of motor trouble and the driver, who was slightly injured, had just set out emergency flares.

Ambulances and wreckers from four nearby communities rushed the injured to hospitals here as they were freed from the twisted steel and the jammed seats of the bus.

Townships Turn To Tots And Teenagers

Southamptons Plan Rec Needs

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth of five articles on the growth of the Southamptons.)

By LEE CARL
Courier and Times Staff Writer

What are Upper and Lower Southampton townships going to offer their vastly expanding boy and girl population?

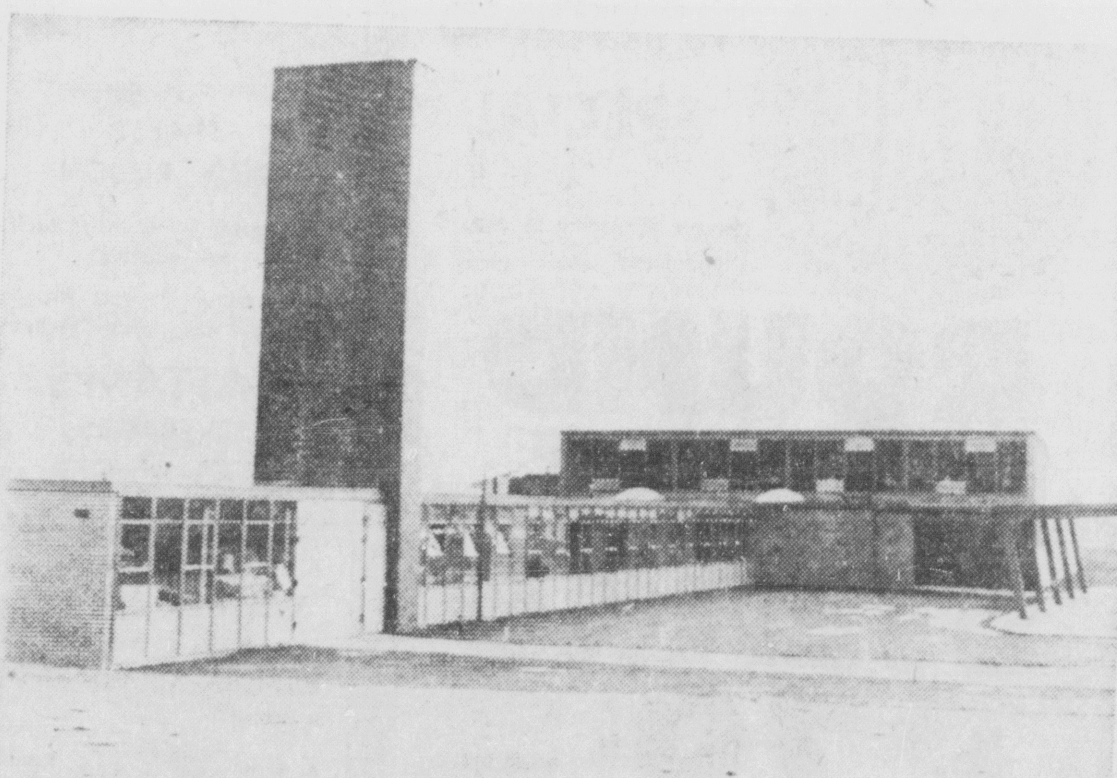

With the growth of these two townships, through an influx of new housing developments, comes youngsters.

Children need recreation activities, parks, and playgrounds. And both Upper and Lower Southampton have recently plunged into movements for more play-time facilities.

Here is another step in transformation from a farm-like to a city-like community — a transformation being realized fully in two townships at the very center of a complex whirlpool of growth.

Park Study

In Lower Southampton, where there is already a recreation board and a fairly extensive play-time program, officials are investigating a large-scale system of parks.

Development of the grounds of the new Poquessing Elementary School in Feasterville is expected to bring additional recreation space to Lower Southampton township. The new school opened in October.

Each major section of the township has been surveyed as municipal and recreation leaders push for the creation of up to five parks.

The rapid spread of houses and other buildings has made the township supervisors cognizant of the fact that land should be set aside soon for such purposes. They requested an investigation by the board of recreation.

The latter group divided the township into sections and studied each area. Its members also called on county officials to aid in their survey. Full study of recommendations is planned by the supervisors.

More Activities

In addition to the park studies, the recreation board is continually attempting to broaden its activities. Another movement is under way in Upper Southampton. Officials of the Southampton Youth Center, who have carried the burden of recreation activities in that township, are

Police Were Skeptical

The disappearance and return of the blonde actress, known as "The Body," climaxed a career of escapades in which she got more publicity than from her movies.

Police yesterday proceeded with their investigation as if she were kidnapped, but they were skeptical. They didn't know if her disappearance was an elaborate hoax or a legitimate kidnapping.

Police privately inclined to the belief that her disappearance—she had been gone from her palatial San Fernando Valley home for nearly 24 hours last midnight—was the product of a sudden illness.

Area Leaders to Discuss Bucks School Problems

Frank F. Flatch, president of the Bucks County AFL-CIO Council, with Dr. Gaylor Harnell, president of the University of Pennsylvania and John 'atterson, vice president of the Penn Fruit Co. will conduct a district conference in Philadelphia for Governor Leader's Advisory Commission on Public Education.

The three were recently appointed to the governor's commission, and will hold the conference in Houston Hall on the University Campus, tentatively set for February 2. The regional meeting will concern school problems of Bucks, Montgomery, Philadelphia, Delaware and Lehigh counties.

In advance of the Philadelphia meeting, Mr. Flatch invited 60 education, civic, business and labor leaders of Bucks County to discuss county school problems at a meeting Jan. 14 at the Warren Snyder elementary school, Bristol.

A purpose of the county meeting, Mr. Flatch said, will be to agree on issues and problems that might be introduced by Bucks county's representatives at the district meeting.

Mr. Flatch will preside over the afternoon session of the all-day Philadelphia conference. He also will report on the interest and achievements of the Bucks County AFL-CIO Council in furthering public education.

Those invited by Mr. Flatch to the Bristol meeting include School Superintendents Warren P. Snyder, Bristol; Dr. Guy F. Eberhardt, Delhaas district; Merrill Bair, Pennsbury District; Dr. Paul Gruber, assistant Bucks County school superintendent.

Oil Shortage In Britain Is Mounting

LONDON — UP — Britain faced a mounting oil shortage today, and experts predicted fuel rationing will continue throughout the year.

British newspapers placed much of the blame for the nation's predicament on small oil companies in the United States.

The government of Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden took steps to conserve available supplies. Gasoline rationing, introduced as a "temporary" measure when the Suez crisis cut off supplies, continued to off supplies coming to Britain through the Suez Canal, took on some aspects of permanency.

Government leaders mapped plans for still tighter restrictions on gasoline and oil consumption in an effort to make ends meet. Prices of all oil products were expected to rise to meet increased shipping costs, and there were new predictions of a further cut in the program which has limited industrial consumption of fuel oil to about 90 per cent of normal.

Minister of Transport Harold Watkinson conferred yesterday with representatives of the nationalized trucking industry and independent operators. Informal sources said he told them trucking lines have not conformed with government instructions for saving fuel.

Deeper Cut

The fuel shortage took a deeper cut in the British automobile industry, which has been shaky since a rash of strikes over reduced working hours last year. The Ford plant at Dagenham, east of London, laid off 1,000 employees yesterday, and another 1,000 at the Singer Company's Coventry plant were put on a three-day work week because of the slump in car sales caused by gasoline rationing.

Several British newspapers accused the United States of choking supplies of American crude oil to Britain to suit American interests.

Texas oil companies came in for particular criticism for apparent unwillingness to step up supplies of crude oil to Europe.

Cloudy Skies For Lower Bucks

By UNITED PRESS

Mostly cloudy weather was forecast for Lower Bucks County today while the western portion of the state was expected to have partly cloudy skies with some snow flurries in the mountains and northwestern counties.

The U. S. Weather Bureau predicted temperatures today ranging from the 20's in the mountains to the mid and upper 30's. Some clearing and colder was expected tonight with temperatures ranging from near 8 to 10 degrees in the mountains to the teens in Western Pennsylvania and in the low and mid 20's elsewhere.

Levittown Man Fined For Fight

A Levittown man was fined $150 in Lawrence township yesterday for taking the holiday a little too seriously New Year's Eve.

David Johnson, 28, 38 Ruby lane, received the fine for being disorderly and fighting with three Lawrence township policemen outside a Lawrence tavern.

Johnson appeared in Lawrence township before Judge Casimer E. Bugdal.

Motel Permit Issue Up To Commission

The question of whether to issue a building permit for the controversial motel proposed for Green lane near the Route 13 entrance to the turnpike, is now up to the Bristol Township Board of Commissioners.

Township building Officer Howard J. Robinson, rejected the request of Bristol Motel, Inc. for a permit. The firm in turn has appealed his actions to the Board of Commissioners.

Likely Date

The commissioners must hold a hearing on the appeal and render a "prompt" decision. Board President Edward Wiler said no date for the hearing has been set as yet. But, he added, he thinks Jan. 23 would be the most likely date.

He explained the township would not be able to act on the petition until it hired a new solicitor. This would likely be done at regular meeting of the Board next Wednesday, Wiler said.

Robinson rejected the request for a building permit on the grounds that the building code did not specifically provide for a motel. The only classification which fits the motel would be a "residential use group." The plans for the motel units he said, did not meet the basic space requirement for a residential use group.

85-Unit Plan

The motel corporation announced plans to build an 85-unit, two story motel at a cost of a half-million dollars when they applied for several variances of the zoning code before the Zoning Board of adjustment.

The zoning board granted the variances and a zoning permit was issued. However, Robinson balked at issuing the building permit and on Dec. 18, notified the firm that it was turning down its request.

Thomas A. Reap, Levittown attorney, presented the appeal, on behalf of the motel group, to Thomas F. Coman, township secretary.

The commissioners haven't had a meeting since the appeal was filed and haven't been able to set a date for the hearing. At the same time they would have been unable to act in the matter since their solicitor Gilbert J. Kraus resigned as of the end of the year.

The commissioners, reportedly, have been interviewing applicants for the solicitor post this week. The board has been sitting as a committee of the whole under the chairmanship of Eugene Kehoe.

Ironically, Kraus resigned as a result of the controversy over the motel. He filed incorporation papers on behalf of the firm last year and still represents the corporation. However he had not participated in any of the firm's dealings with Bristol Township.

He resigned after several commissioners asked him for an opinion on issuing the permit. Kraus refused to give an opinion because of his connection with the company, but offered to pay for the hiring of an outside attorney to render an opinion.

His position angered several commissioners and Kraus resigned.

Elvis Passes Army Exam

MEMPHIS, Tenn. —UP— The Army, Elvis Presley and the blonde he left behind all agree that the rock 'n' roll singer is in good physical condition and ready for a tour in the service.

Elvis passed his pre-induction physical examination here yesterday and probably will be classified 1A — available for induction in six months.

"The Pelvis" caused a mild stir here when he drove up in a flashy Cadillac with a flashy blonde to take his routine tests. The blonde stayed behind while Presley went through the medical and mental paces at Kennedy Veterans Hospital.

Presley pronounced himself in "fine shape." The husky rock 'n' roller said "I'm in good health as far as I know."

The blonde, chorus girl Doty Harmony, 21 agreed. Doty, who met Elvis in Las Vegas and has been a house guest of the Presleys for the holidays, said "he's a fine physical specimen."

Fighting Continues In Hungary

Puppet Premier Kadar Hopes For Western-Style Parliament

VIENNA — UP — Hungary's puppet Communist regime today held out the prospect of a Western-style parliament in another attempt to end resistance and win support in the struggle to put the stricken nation back on its economic feet.

A four-man United Nations mission was in Budapest for consultations with Communist officials on the relief and economic needs of the rebellion - devastated nation. The Communist Hungarians frankly admitted foreign help would be a major factor in restoring the national economy.

Under State law, all second class townships must hold reorganizational meetings the first Monday in January.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Supervisors will follow at 8 p.m.

Twp. Awards Contract For Second Span

The widening of Frosty Hollow road, Middletown-Levittown, by 10 feet is planned for this year, according to Angus T. Johnson, township manager.

Johnson said the cost of the project is estimated at between $8000 and $10,000. Money for the widening job is included in the preliminary budget for 1957, which will be presented at the February meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

Bridge Widening

The work is contingent on plans by the county to widen a bridge which carries the road over Mill Creek. The creek winds between the Upper Orchard and Juniper Hill sections on one side of the road and between Snowball Gate and Red Rose Gate on the other side.

The road is now 15 or 16 feet wide, Johnson said. Plans call for increasing the width to 26 feet. This will be done by adding five foot strips on both sides. At spots, however, he said this will vary and one side of the road will be widened more than the other, depending on the amount of right-of-way the township has.

Johnson said the county has agreed to widen the bridge. This would be the more costly part of the project, running around $50,000.

Direct Link

The manager pointed out that Frosty Hollow road serves as a direct link to about 1500 Levittown families in the township as well as the Walter Miller school. In addition to the four sections already named, the road runs into the Cobalt ridge section.

At the same time, Johnson disclosed that the supervisors had decided to award the contract for the construction of a foot bridge over the Queen Ane's creek between Cobalt Ridge and Quincy Hollow, to the Concrete Construction corporation.

The firm was the second lowest bidder. It offered to do the job for $18,174. The lowest bidder was Joseph Husvar, of Bristol, his bid was $17,398.

Johnson said the supervisors felt the Philadelphia firm was better qualified to do the work as it seemed to have better equipment and more experience. The contracts should be signed shortly with work scheduled to begin in a month or two, Johnson said.

Sabol's Wife Files Charges

Justice of the Peace Earl Dougherty, Edgely, revealed today that the wife of Edward J. Sabol, missing Bristol township auditor, has sworn out a warrant charging him with desertion.

Mrs. Frances Sabol, 2901 Penn Valley avenue, Bristol Township, said her husband disappeared Dec. 29 after telling her he was going to New York on a business trip.

A 13-state alarm has been sent out for him by the Fairless State Police.

Police Mum On Free-For-All

Trenton police reported a "brawling free-for-all" took place last night on Orchard way, Silver Lake Terrace in Lower Makefield township among nine teenage youngsters.

The fight started about 10 p.m. No injuries were reported.

Two Drivers Are Fined In Drunk Cases

Two Lower Bucks County men were fined for drunken driving offenses after pleading guilty yesterday in Bucks County court. Charles J. Fitzsimmons, 37 River lane, Red Cedar Hill, Levittown, was fined $200, and Luther E. Colter, 232 E. Richardson avenue, Langhorne, was fined $150.

Also Pay Costs

Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite ordered both men to pay costs of prosecution.

Fitzsimmons was arrested Nov. 3 by Falls township police near the Hi Hat Diner, Route 1.

Police said another motorist warned them about Fitzsimmons' "erratic" driving, that they spotted his car and then watched it weaving back and forth on Route 1.

Suerved Off Highway

They said Fitzsimmons suerved off the highway into a field one time and that his car left the highway again near the Thriftmart before they stopped him. The second time, police said, he suerved onto the shoulder of the highway.

Fitzsimmons was pronounced under the influence of alcohol by Dr. William B. Suter, Fairless Hills.

Colter was arrested Oct. 22 by Middletown township police at the Super highway and Pine street, in the township.

He pleaded guilty previously before Justice of the Peace William Oettinger, Middletown, and was held for yesterday's court session.

1 Fined $100, 3 Held In Disorderly Case

Three of the four persons who were picked up in a raid on a Trevese Heights house on Maple avenue, Wednesday, have been returned to Bucks County prison by Justice of the Peace Edward Dougherty of Northampton. One will serve a 50-day term, the others must await action of Doylestown courts.

George Shand, who resided at the Maple avenue address, and his companion, Charles Schultz, of the same address, have been charged with disorderly conduct and maintaining a disorderly house. They will await grand jury action.

The Philadelphia woman, Mrs. Dorothy Lambert, who was also picked up in the raid, was fined $200, police explained. But her inability to pay caused the JP to return her to prison for 50 days. She was charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

The fourth man arrested in the "sex-orgy" raid was Walter Lykens, who resides on Maple avenue near the questionable house. He was fined $100 for disorderly conduct.

The hearing before the justice of the peace was Thursday night.

Cub Scouts To Visit City

Morrisville Cub Scouts will be seeing stars next Friday.

In a tie-in with the Cub theme of the month, which is astronomy, members of the Pack will journey to Philadelphia to visit the city's planetarium.

More than 40 Cubs are expected to make the trip and they will be accompanied by a group of parents. At least one parent will be assigned with every five boys.

The Cubs are members of troop 3 of Morrisville, sponsored by the First Presbyterian church. William Pogany is Cubmaster.

Wright said it was nearly two hours before many of the living could be freed. They had to wait for a wrecker from Lexington to pull away the heavy steel that pinned them to their seats.

Baby Among Victims

Only three of the dead were identified immediately. They were the bus driver, Sherer S. Sutliff, 48, Roanoke, Va., Kenneth G. Tyacke, 49, Washington, D.C., and Col. Milton Rogers, about 60, of Lexington, believed to be a retired Army officer.

Two unidentified white women and a 3-week-old baby also were killed. Police said that one of the women was apparently the child's mother and the other a relative.

Hospital authorities said that of the 32 injured, 16 were hospitalized and two were in critical condition. Sixteen others were treated and released, while two of the passengers of the ill-fated bus were unhurt.

The two persons critically injured were Nellie May Craft, an elderly woman, and Roy Phillips Jr., an 18-year-old Negro of Memphis.
